

One Time...
At the Onkaparinga

By Nanny Peri

For Daniel and Oliver

Date: March 2013

Once a fortnight Nanny Peri loads up the field van with:

- Her sampling gear,*
- The two dogs, Tugga and Deeva, and*
- A big picnic lunch.*

She starts up the van and heads off down to the Onkaparinga to measure the water quality.

One time at the Onkaparinga, Breanne was in charge of the water tester. She had fun!

One time at the Onkaparinga, Tugga spotted a rabbit in the grass. He watched very closely!

By Nanny Peri

One time at the Onkaparinga, the geese at Old Noarlunga chased Ruth. She was not happy!

One time at the Onkaparinga, there was a swarm of bees on the Swing Bridge. Nanny Peri crept underneath it VERY carefully!

One time at the Onkaparinga, someone put a sofa down by the edge of the river. It was a hot day but they DO look comfortable!

One time at the Onkaparinga, someone burnt an old car on the track. Nanny Peri had to wriggle the van around it.

By Nanny Peri

*One time at the Onkaparinga, Olla came in the van with Nanny Peri.
He loved the picnic lunch!*

*One time at the Onkaparinga,
Nanny Peri saw some kangaroos.
They sat up and watched her.*

One time at the Onkaparinga, Mummy kayaked right down the river. She had a little rest at Perry's Bend picnic spot.

One time at the Onkaparinga, the Council installed new bins for fishing line. They look cute and keep the birds from getting hurt.

One time at the Onkaparinga, there was a really big flock of little black cormorants. They were resting after hunting for lots of fish.

*One time at the Onkaparinga,
Deeva sat on the sofa in the van.
She is such a comfort queen!*

One time at the Onkaparinga, a long time ago, Mummy carried baby Olla through the saltmarshes while Daniel helped Nanny Peri take the picture...
